The Pittsburgh Gazette.

TUESDAY, JUNE 12, 1866.

Mr. Geo. F. Miller, the representative in Congress from the 14th district, we regret to see, is having a sharp contest for a re-nomination, with the chances against him. He has steadily voted with the Republican majority, and has conscientiously labored to promote the interests of his constituents.

In Cincinnati, in addition to Mr. Pike's new opera house, Mr. T. B. Handy proposes to build an opera house with a studio building combined, where, between acts, the audience can promenade through a gallery of pictures and statues. Mr. T. Buchanan Read has consented to supervise the arrangement of this studio.

The Freedmen's Bureau has done one thing that will delight the democrats—It has suppressed the Loyal Georgian, published at Augusta, by the blacks. The cause is not yet known; but as the agent who did the job is the same one who forbade colored people to decorate the graves of Union soldiers, the reasons can be anticipated.

Tabbs Gross, an African capitalist of Cincinnati, owns a lot of ground in a fashionable quarter of that city. He talks of building a church on it for people of his color. As he is known to be sharp, and the lot to be small, the Cincinnatians have a suspicion he wants to turn the prejudices of his white neighbors to pecuniary account by inducing them to buy him out. What right has a negro in a free country to be a capitalist? The democracy ought to resurrect Chief Justice Taney.

Gen. Fremont recently purchased the Southwest Branch Railroad of the Commissioners of Missouri, and was to pay $325,000 down, which he is ready to do; but one of the Commissioners refuses to sign the conveyance, on the grounds that the property is worth more than Fremont agreed to pay for it, and that the road possesses a million acres of land, worth a dollar an acre, on which it is not proposed to hold mortgage to secure the balance of purchase money.

The Boston Post, the leading organ of Democracy in New England, has a South Carolina correspondent, who thus discourses:

"I will speak first of the colored aristocracy of Charleston.

"The class is a tolerably large one, and quite intelligent and refined. With few exceptions the ladies and gentlemen are of mixed blood, and among their daughters are some of the handsomest women in the State. And why not? For the best blood, so called—the blood of South Carolina's senators, governors, and old merchants—flows in their veins; and the best blood, in fact—the blood of her honest, God-fearing and industrious negroes—mingled freely with it. Among this select society are men who would do honor to any station in social life. There are shrewd merchants among them."

Count Resurgurier, who hails from Austria and is an officer on the staff of Maximilian, is in Washington, and has had frequent interviews at the State Department and with the Committee on Foreign Affairs. A prominent New York merchant, who accompanied him to Washington, gave him a dinner, Thursday, inviting Senator Nye, Speaker Colfax, Mr. Garfield and other members of Congress. During the dinner, it leaked out that the Count was connected with Maximilian's Government, when Senator Nye, Speaker Colfax and others denounced the attempt to establish a monarchial government, and declared it to be the policy of our Government to support the Monroe doctrine.

Messrs. Nye and Colfax did well in discussing the dinner. In intruding the discussion of politics they evinced a discreditable sensitiveness that seems something like impertinence.

Julius Worhele, a native of Wurtemberg, worked in Philadelphia in 1865. He left, in company with an unknown man, and was found dead at Dr. Kilderlin's farm, a few miles out. In April the friends of Worhele, at home, received a letter purporting to be written by him, asking a remittance to be sent to his address, care Reading P. O. The consul of Wurtemberg, at Philadelphia, was informed, and he sent a decoy letter, with draft for 100 florins, as requested. The draft came back from Allentown National Bank, endorsed in the name of Julius Worhele. This led to the arrest of Jacob or Joseph Hoddop, June 7th. Said Hoddop had charge of Kilderlin's farm, and is identified as the stranger Worhele disappeared with. Hoddop is a native of Baden, and so a countryman of Probst.

LETTER FROM ANAWAN,

Consolidation of the Pennsylvania Railroad—Sleeping Car Capsized—Butler Explosion—Primary Election—Alleghenies and its Prospects—Medals—The Grave of Shiloh—the Fired Limestone in this County—New Crops, &c. &c.

Altoona, June 11th, 1866.

On Friday evening last, as the Philadelphia Express from the west was nearing this place, the axle of one of the sleeping coaches broke, and the car underneath and succeeded in doing some lofty tumbling, without the aid of a spring board. The embankment where the accident occurred is only about thirty feet. Had it been five minutes earlier, the car would have been dashed to pieces, with fatal results to the occupants. As it was, but few were hurt at all and those slightly. A lady and gentleman, who were about retiring, were bruised a little, Mr. Archy Houston, of Latrobe, conductor of the Baltimore Express, had the shock of meeting his probation, and was otherwise slightly injured. On Saturday the "mickies" succeeded in getting the car into the shop, and the track was clear on Saturday morning. On Saturday afternoon a freight train of freight ocurred at Manayunk, which detained the westward bound trains till a late hour on Saturday night. No lives lost.

About six weeks ago a new paper mill went into operation, in this county, at Spang's iron works, and on Friday evening last the boiler collapsed, severely scalding and injuring a man named Joseph Whitman. He was a teamster and had just hauled up and was unloading a load of coal, when the explosion took place. The timbers struck Whitman on the side, breaking all the ribs. Whether internally injured or not, was not known. No other serious damage was done.

Saturday was the election day here, and the friends of our contending candidates were on the qui vive until a late hour. McAlmut seemed to be the favorite here. He won a majority of fifty-five in Hollidaysburg, and it is positively asserted that he has carried the county. He is, I am informed, a Canoeus man.

Very few persons passing through this place have any idea of the extent or size of the place. Our fat and jolly friend, Capt. John A. Bloodgett, coadjutor of the Alnoota Accommodation, on Saturday evening piloted us on to what is called "Gospel Hill," on the north of the would-be city. The view from the top of this hill is enough to repay the tourare for a city, not of seven, but two hills and a beautiful vale. The scene lacks only a river to make it perfect. The place is growing rapidly. In reliability it will reach ten thousand by next year. In an effort to make it a city last winter failed. Hotels here and in Hollidaysburg are good. Mr. John Woods, proprietor of the Exchange, is building an addition and otherwise remodeling his house, preparatory to summer trade. The United States Hotel, recently opened in Hollidaysburg, by F. A. Olmes, Esq., is unquestionably the best hotel we have stopped at for months.

Mr. Olmes very kindly drove us out yesterday to see the surroundings, visiting Newry, Lamerville, Treadon, and in our course we visited the grave of Shirley, the first man hung in this county. Shirley was the murder of his wife. His grave is situated between two pear trees in his own garden, near Lamerville, and is marked by a simple stone, inscribed with his name and age.

ANAWAN.

CITY ITEMS.

Messrs. Editors:—My attention has been called to an anonymous article which appeared in your paper of Saturday morning, which winds up as follows:

"And, finally, would it not be better to raise the salary of the Secretary of the Central Board, and then forbid his acting as agent for any series of text books, and thus preclude the necessity of his insulting all the lady teachers about the city who do not officially endorse such series of books."

The "Citizen" who wrote the above, or the one who left it at your office and paid for its insertion, is said to be named Davis, a resident of Allegheny city, a man whom I know not, but who is represented to be the former principal of a school in the neighborhood whose Directors permitted him to retire after a short term, in consequence of his interference with the text books adopted by them.

The charge or implication that I am acting as an agent for any series of text books, with or without compensation, is maliciously false.

As the latter part of Citizen Davis' structure appears to be the vagaries of a diseased mind, I will pass it without comment.

JOHN A. SERGEANT.

A Medical Wonder.

The reader of this, whoever he may be, is simply requested to note the fact that all the cases to which we refer in this article have been cured in the city of Pittsburgh and vicinity. No one need be deceived in the merits of this great medicine—we mean Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher. The cures it has made entitles it to a fairer claim upon public attention than any proprietary medicine with which we are acquainted. By its use the most loathsome diseases have been gradually but surely eradicated from the human system, and the blood, the source of health and life to the living organism, has been completely and thoroughly purified from all morbid and poisonous particles. Last week we recorded a case of cancer cured by this great remedy. There are besides numberless cases of general debility, torpid liver, dyspepsia, kidney disease, dropsy, asthma and bronchitis which have been cured by it.

A gentleman on Wood street, whose neck was covered for years with scrofulous sores, has been completely restored to health by Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher.

A lady, whose hip was covered with a disease resembling cancer for several years, was entirely cured by it. Another, whose head and arm had been eaten into by scrofulous sores, was entirely cured by less than a dozen of bottles. A man totally blind from scrofula, which affected his eyes, was completely restored to sight by the use of three bottles. Another man, who had bleeding piles for eighteen years, was cured by five bottles. There is no disease, when the blood is tainted with poisonous and corrupt humors, that it will not help. Ask for Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher, at 140 Wood street. Price one dollar per bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

Heat and Exhaustion.

It requires a constitution and physique of unusual strength to resist the effect of the enervating heat of July and August. Unless the system is toned and sustained by a wholesome stomachic during these oppressive months it is likely to be so severely debilitated as to render it an easy prey to the epidemics which prevail in the fall. "A wholesome stomachic! where is it to be found" asks the reader, who has, perhaps, been told by his physician that a little good brandy is a serviceable stimulant, and has sought for that obsolete article in vain. It would be as idle to expect wholesomeness and purity among the liquors of commerce as to look for miracles of piety in the State prison, or wisdom in an idiot asylum.

There is one safe resource—but one—for those who need a protective tonic and health-sustaining invigorant. Let them commence at once, as the torrid season opens in all its intensity, a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Ask the returned officers and soldiers of the Union Army, who have used this elixir during the war, what they think of it. They will tell you that it keeps up the vital forces under the most trying heats, a vertical sun without vitiating the blood or creating any undue excitement in the circulation. As the poet Cowper said of tea, "It cheers, but not inebriates." It braces the nervous organization and regulates all the functions of the body. No other stimulant can compare in purity with the Essence of Rye, which forms its basis, and the tonic, aperient and anti-bilious herbs with which it is medicated are the best of their kind on the face of the earth.

THE TARIFF TO BE REVISED.

General Beauregard at Liverpool.

HE IS APPLAUDED AT THE EXCHANGE.

Illness of Cardinal Antonelli.

CONCERNING THE FENIANS.

The First Night Over the Border from St. Albans.

ORDERS FROM SWEENY AND MAHAN.

New York, June 11.—Washington specials say: The Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means desires to have it understood that the tariff will be thoroughly revised, and every justifiable increase recommended.

The following additional news from Europe has been received:

Gen. Beauregard visited the Liverpool Exchange on the 30th ult., where his presence becoming known, great interest was excited, and the news room rapidly filled. He was applauded on leaving, and considerable numbers of people followed him through the streets.

Cardinal Antonelli has been seriously ill from a relapse of gout, but is now better. He has been twice visited by the Pope.

St. Albans dispatch dated 9 p. m. of the 10th says: After the first night over the border there was discontent among the Fenians, and numbers deserted on Friday night. There being no provisions or supplies and ammunition coming up the discontent became general. Early Saturday morning General Spear addressed the men, when the supplies and ammunition had been seized by the United States authorities, still, he was willing to continue the advance, and asked how many would follow him. Only seventy-five of the men came straggling along singly and in groups, still they appeared cheerful and with full faith in the cause. At St. Albans they were furnished with transportation by the United States Government to their homes. They seemed pleased at the kindness of the United States authorities and cheered the Stars and stripes lustily.

Gen. Spear was released on parole to await at St. Albans the action of the United States authorities. Gen. Sweeny, who left the men twelve, on Saturday, released from close confinement and put on the limits of St. Albans.

It is said a guard of ten Fenians, placed on this side of Canada line to keep off the smugglers, were attacked by mounted English troops and one man killed and three wounded.

An affidavit was made before General Meade that a party of British regulars crossed the border on Saturday night and captured three Fenians near Franklin, Vt., two of whom were our citizens, while trying drunk on this side of the line were seized and carried into Canada also, by British troops. Two others were shot on Sunday morning.

The following orders have been promulgated from Sweeny and Mahan:

St. Albans, June 10th, 1866.—To W. R. Roberts, President of Fenian Brotherhood, 135 Hosevelt—Send no more men to the front. The strongest exertions of the United States Government have rendered success impossible at present. Promulgate this immediately.

(Signed,) T. W. Sweeny.

To the Senior Officer with troops of Army of Ireland at Hoosic Junction and Franklin:

Sir: In view of the President's proclamation and stringent measures adopted by the United States authorities to prevent reinforcements or supplies reaching our forces on the frontier, destitute as we are of war material, and not likely to obtain it under any present circumstances, the General commanding the Army of Ireland instructs me to inform you that he considers it his duty to direct you to avail yourself of the offer of the United States Government to furnish transportation to such officers and men to their respective homes, as the object of the expedition cannot be accomplished at present. The General feels certain the soldiers of our organization will conduct now awarded them by the people of the United States.

(Signed,) John Mahan,
Col. of Engineers, and Chief of Staff.

JEFF. DAVIS—THE BAIL QUESTION.

The Arch Traitor's Friends Allowed Free Access to Him.

RESOLUTION OF THE HOUSE ON THE SUBJECT.

Appointments and Confirmations.

Washington, June 11.—Mr. George Shea, of the counsel for Jefferson Davis, made a motion before Judge Underwood, in Chambers to-day, in order to test the jurisdiction of the courts in Virginia involving the power to hold the prisoner to bail, it being a judicial question with which the President has nothing to do. It is stated that Judge Underwood expressed the opinion which has always been insisted upon by Chief Justice Chase, that so long as martial law or military surveillance was enforced in Virginia, the courts were a mere adjunct and used in aid of the military power.

Mr. O'Connor, the senior counsel of Mr. Davis, was present, with Attorney General Speed, and Ex-Governor Pratt was among the auditors. Judge Underwood declined to exercise his power to issue a writ of habeas corpus to bring the prisoner before his court until he had received from the President a relinquishment of the accused to the powers of the civil authorities, Mr. Davis being now a prisoner of war.

Judge Underwood reduced his opinion to writing, which, having been given to counsel, was taken to the President by Mr. O'Connor. All further action in the premises is, therefore, suspended until the first order of the Government. It is stated on the authority of one of the counsel that no application was made by them to Chief Justice Chase with reference to bail.

Within the last two days Jeff. Davis' friends, professional and otherwise, have had free access to him at Fortress Monroe.

The passage of the resolution by the House, to-day, declaring that it is its opinion Davis should be kept in confinement until tried, according to the laws of the land, was the outcome of an apprehension that he would be bailed, as many of the members of Congress had been led to believe from previous representations.

The Senate, in executive session to-day, confirmed the following nomination: Walter B. Scates, to be Collector of Customs at Chicago.

James W. Long, to be agent for the Sioux Indians of the Mississippi, in the territory of Dakotah; Paul Frank, of New York, to be Marshal of the Consular Court at Kanagawa, Japan.

Brevet Brigadier General A. L. Gurney, formerly of New York, now of Selma, Alabama, in favor of a restoration of United States officers and soldiers against the increase of the tax on cotton, states that twenty officers and two hundred men of his late regiment are in Alabama, and that a thousand northern emigrants are in that State, mostly engaged in the cultivation of cotton. Assuming that the culture cannot prove profitable with the proposed tax, many northern men will leave the State if it shall be imposed.

The report of the Board of Visitors to the Naval Academy states the condition of the institution to be highly satisfactory.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Bail for Jeff. Davis Refused, on the Ground that He is a Prisoner of War.—Mr. Wilson will introduce the Freedmen's Bureau Bill with Amendments.—Other Items.

Washington City, June 11.—This morning Judge Underwood, in Chambers at the United States Attorney General's office, heard the arguments of Messrs. O'Connor and Shea, counsel for Jeff. Davis, why the prisoner should not be admitted to bail. Attorney General Speed replied on the part of the government. Judge Underwood refused to admit Mr. Davis to bail on the ground that he had no authority to do so, the accused being a prisoner of war.

Senator Wilson will report the Freedmen's Bureau bill with amendments providing for the restoration of the Confederate lands to their former owners on certain conditions, and furnishing the freedmen now occupying them with other lands.

Congress will not adjourn without increasing or revising the tariff.

The investigation into the Merchants' National Bank swindle is nearly concluded. Committee will recommend measures to enable more summary proceedings in such cases.

It is quite probable the Bankrupt bill and the bill concerning the pay of army officers will go over until next session.

The receipts of Internal Revenue in the last week were $5,520,000.

Trial for Malfeasance in Office.

Albany, N. Y. June 11.—The Senate is to meet to-morrow under a proclamation of the Governor for the purpose of trying the case of Judge Smith, County Judge of Oneida county, who is charged with malfeasance in office and collusion with bounty brokers. &c.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Amended Freedmen's Bill Offered.

BILL REGULATING APPOINTMENTS AND REMOVALS.

Resolution Concerning Jeff. Davis.

MR. ROSSEAU RECEIVES A SCATHING.

Washington, June 11, 1866.

SENATE.

Mr. Fessenden offered a bill to punish treasurers and paymasters for lending and misappropriating public monies.

Mr. Sherman called up the bill to construct telegraphs for the Government, which was postponed until to-morrow.

Mr. Wilson reported a bill for continuing the Freedmen's Bureau, striking out the fifth and sixth sections, and inserting instead sections providing for the allotment of certain lands sold for taxes to the freedmen. The third section provides that all the property held in trust for the so-called Confederate government shall be set apart for the education of the freedmen, the land to be surveyed into lots of seventy acres each.

Mr. Sherman introduced a bill to authorize the establishment of a Reportory in Germany to illustrate the physical, political, social and economic condition, and the national resources of the several States of the American Union. Referred to Committee on Agriculture. It provides for a building at Frankfort, in which maps, charts, and all information concerning the United States can be consulted. To be a place of rendezvous for Americans in Germany. Each State or territory shall have a space allotted, and a Superintendent shall be appointed by the President with the consent of the Senate.

Mr. Hendricks introduced a bill to amend the act to restrict the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims.

The bill to quiet land titles in California was passed.

The bill to publish the official history of the rebellion was reported with amendments.

Mr. Howard reported a bill to amend the Pacific Railroad act.

Mr. Henderson called up the bill to aid the Kansas and Neosho Railroad. Postponed till to-morrow.

The Chair appointed as the Special Committee to examine and report upon the condition of the Mississippi levees, Messrs. Clark, Chandler, Cowan, Henderson, and Johnson.

The joint resolution appropriating $50,000 for a site for a national soldiers' and sailors' asylum, at Point Lookout, was referred to the Military Committee.

Several bills were introduced and referred. After the executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. Colfroth moved the appointment of a committee to ascertain the amount of damages caused by oil floods in Pennsylvania, with a view to paying the same.

Mr. Grinnell rising to debate, the resolution was laid over for the time.

Mr. Ancona offered the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, The Irish people and their brethren in the colonies in this country are moved by a patriotic purpose to assert the independence and re-establishment of Ireland;

And whereas, The active sympathy of the people of the United States is extended to all men who struggle to achieve such ends, more especially when those engaged are the known friends of our Government, as are the people of the Irish race, who have shed their blood in defence of our flag in every battle in which the Republic has been engaged;

And whereas, The British government, against which they are struggling, is entitled to no other or greater consideration from us, as a nation, than demanded by the strict letter of international law. The reason that during the late continental war that desolated our land, in effect, repeal its neutrality laws and whereas, while our reputation demands condemnation for the violation of our laws, arising from a wilful neglect of Great Britain to enforce the same, she desires all the responsibility and claim to be the judge in her own case;

And, whereas, The existence of the neutrality laws of 1818 compels the Executive Department of this Government to discriminate most harshly against those who have ever been, and are now, our friends, and in favor of those who have been faithless, not only to the general principles of nations which should exist between friendly States, but also to the written law of their own nation on the subject; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Foreign Affairs be instructed to report a bill repealing an act approved April 20th, 1818, it being the only statute on the subject which limits the President's proclamation against the Fenians was issued.

Mr. Boutwell moved to lay the preamble and resolution upon the table.

Mr. Rogers, of New Jersey, demanded the yeas and nays upon that motion.

Mr. Ancona, Banks, Donnelly, Wilson, of Iowa, and other members, wished to offer suggestions, but Mr. Ancona having moved the previous question, refused to accept of the suggestions. The motion to lay the resolution upon the table was then agreed to—yeas 105, nays 39.

Mr. Rogers moved to suspend the rules, so as to enable him to offer it.

Mr. Boutwell moved to suspend the rules, so as to enable him to offer it.

Mr. Rogers desired to ask a question, but the speaker informed him that debate was not in order.

Mr. Rogers persisted in putting his question to Mr. Boutwell which was, as far as could be heard, whether he believed that Mr. Davis had any complicity in the assassination of President Lincoln, and whether every unprejudiced mind was convinced to the contrary.

The Speaker called Mr. Rogers to order and notified him that he must obey the rules of the House and take his seat.

Mr. O'Neill asked the Speaker whether the matter that was ruled out of order would appear in the Congressional Globe.

The Speaker replied in the affirmative, adding that a resolution was adopted in the last Congress forbidding reporters to insert in the Globe what was said out of order, but that no such resolution was adopted at the session.

The rules were suspended; yeas 67, nays 39, and the resolution was then adopted, was adopted by a vote of yeas 105, nays 19. The preamble was agreed to without a division.

The following is the vote on the adoption of the resolution:

Nays—Messrs. Ancona, Boyer, Coffroth, Eldridge, Finck, Gossbrenner, Grinder, Harmer, Hogan, Johnson, McCullough, Niblock, Randall, (Pa.), Rutz, Roger, Stigmores, Strouse, Tabor, Trimble and Winfield—19.

The joint resolution reported on Friday last, by Mr. Lo Blond, to pay the officers of the United States steamer Lumber for loss of clothing from the sinking of that steamer in collision, came up as the next business in order. After being amended so as to limit the compensation to such effects as the officers were required by regulations to provide themselves with, the joint resolution was recommitted to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. Coffroth from the Committee on Invalid Pensions reported a bill granting pensions to the soldiers and sailors of the war of 1812, and those engaged in the Indian war during that period, which was read twice and recommitted.

Ancona offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the Secretary of War for information as to persons drafted in the 8th Congressional District of Pennsylvania from February 1865, who had been previously drafted and paid commutation or furnished substitutes.

Mr. Raymond offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the President of the United States to inform the House if the House a statement of the provisions of the laws and ordinances of the late insurgent States on the subject of the rebel debt, so called.

Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution, which was adopted, equalizing the pay of the Reading Clerk, Assistant Reader and Tally Clerk to that of Journal Clerk.

Mr. Johnson offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee of Ways and Means to inquire into the expediency of providing for the erection of a fire-proof building in the principal city or town of each Congressional District, to be used for a Post-office and for the offices of the Assessors and Collectors of Internal Revenue.

Mr. Stigneaves offered a resolution, which was adopted, for the appointment of a committee of three on the part of the House, to be joined by a committee from the State Senate, to join such committee as may be appointed on the part of the Senate, and report upon the propriety of an act being passed by Congress commemorative of the life, character and services of Lieutenant General Scott.

The House then considered the bill for restoring to the insurrectionary States their political rights.

Mr. Kelly offered a substitute providing for the calling of the State Conventions of 1865, before January 1867, for the formation of State Constitutions to be submitted to the vote of the people. Persons entitled to vote on such elections shall be all male citizens twenty-one years of age and upwards, of adults, irrespective of color, otherwise not prosecutable to Congress. Then, and then only, can States be readmitted to the rights and privileges of other States.

Mr. Rossean said that it was the fault of the majority in Congress that the States had not long ago been restored. He then defended the President at length. He referred to Mr. Ingersoll's attack on the President and was called to order.

Mr. Grinnell got leave to make a personal explanation in reference to some reflections upon him made by Mr. Rosseau. He said if he were the President and such a speech were made in his audience, he would order the gentleman from such an unmanly, incoherent, brainless defender, equal in virtue, in civil life as in military, to any volunteer was in the service, to a military history to be found! The reputation he got in Kentucky was earned by sending back negroes across the Ohio or Mississippi river, who had come there to seek their liberty. Where had the gentleman been in the great battles of the war? A hundred and fifty miles away from them. Let him ask General Grant, or any general officer, his opinion about him. The gentleman had taken about his commanding Iowa troops, but a leading officer from that State had told him it was a common expression among the troops when there was any excitement, that it was either a rabbit or Gen. Rossean. He had not let Iowa troops to "imminent deadly breach." It was all pretence. It was the Iowa troops who were not born. The gentleman traduced him, Mr. Grinnell, in a speech which he made in New York, at a Fenian meeting, speaking of him as a pitiful political demagogue, whose name he believed was Grinnell, and he had in the same speech spoken of a distinguished member of the House, alluding to Mr. Ingersoll, as a man for whom he could not express his contempt and there, said Mr. Grinnell, in a most contemptous manner, there he stands, six feet high, and even calling himself a buttoned up general officer and gentleman.

Mr. Rosseau, after shifting his position several times, had got into the vicinity of Mr. Grinnell, and it might reasonably be expected that, smarting under the taunts and sneers so lavishly directed at him, he would take a summary mode of dealing with the member from Iowa, but at this time Mr. Banks rose and made the point of order that the gentleman from Iowa had not, in obtaining leave to make a personal explanation, obtained any right to violate the rules of debate, which point of order the Speaker sustained, notifying Mr. Grinnell that he must proceed in order.

Mr. Rosseau intimated if the speaker would not protect him, he would protect himself.

Explanations and recriminations followed and the House soon after adjourned.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

Mexican Advices—Cordova Captives still Held—Second Anniversary of Maximillian's Advent in Mexico—Accounts of the Overflow in Red River Region.

New Orleans, June 11.—The Cordova captives are still held. Maximillian made no effort to release them. The leader of the Mocking party was a federal of New Orleans, once on Canby's staff.

The second anniversary of Maximilian's arrival was celebrated throughout Mexico.

Red river letters give conflicting accounts of the overflow and destruction of property. The floods are everywhere subsiding, and the planters are putting in cotton crops as fast as the waters recede. The hopes of a crop are small. Meterological observations in the centre of the cotton growing district since April 15th, during the whole of the planting season, were generally unfavorable for the cotton growth, more so than before recorded.

The Mississippi United States Court exacts the test oath of all new attorneys, and admits all qualified before the war anywhere on the Gulf Coast.

Memphis Riot Committee Returned—Tax Bill.

New York, June 11.—Specials to the evening papers say the Committee to investigate the Memphis riots, having returned, their report will be made about the middle of this week. Their information is more important than any yet published.

The Tax bill will also be reported this week.

Louisville, June 11.—The River is five feet ten inches in the canal. The weather is clear and very warm.

LATER ABOUT THE FENIANS.

Military Commandant's Order to Delay a Train Disregarded.

FIFTEEN WAGON LOADS OF ARMS AND MUNITIONS RESCUED BY THE FENIANS.

U. S. Troops Leave Ogdensburg.

PROBABLE RESCUE OF ARMS AT THAT POINT.

Gun on Ft. Wellington Spiked.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., June 11.—A special to the New York Times says: Col. Vodges, commanding the military district of St. Lawrence, sent an order to have the train which leaves this place at 11:30 A. M. for the East, to be detained until further orders from him. The train was held till 12:05 P. M., and then ordered forward by the Deputy Superintendent. Col. Vodges was indignant, and threatened the Deputy Superintendent with incarceration in Fort Lafayette. Mr. Brown, the Deputy Superintendent, stated that martial law had not been proclaimed on this side of the line, and he should decline to go.

The arms and ammunition seized from the Fenians at Brasher Falls by the United States troops, yesterday, and taken to Brasher Station, on the Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain Railroad, to the amount of fifteen wagon loads, were rescued last night by a party of Fenians.

Colonel Vodges left for Malone on a special train at 2:40 o'clock this afternoon, taking with him all the troops stationed here.

There is now no force here to prevent a rescue of the large amount of arms and munitions seized at this point. I would not be surprised if the attempt was made. I have just received reliable information that one of the finest guns on Fort Wellington was spiked on Friday night. The commander has endeavored to keep the fact a profound secret.

LATEST FROM NEW YORK.

New York, June 10.—The number of deaths in the city the past week was three hundred and ninety-three—seventy-seven from contagious diseases, a decrease of twenty-seven over the previous week. In Brooklyn, the deaths during the past week numbered 109.

The trotting over Fashion Course this afternoon, for a purse of one thousand dollars, best three in five, between Daniel Boone and Hambletonian was soon won by the former in three straight heats. Time, 2:42¾, 2:42¾ and 2:40¾.

George Hall committed suicide in this city this evening, by shooting himself in the neck. The cause is unknown.

The Turner societies in the city, Brooklyn, Williamsburg and other adjacent towns, held a grand festival at Jones' Wood to-day. Four thousand persons were present at the Wood.

The Fenian Sons of Erin Emmetsle Society and Caledonian Club. Dancing and lager beer were abundant.

During the examination of President Roberts this afternoon, John Gibbons, Patrick Cuff, William L. Cole and Patrick O'Rourke, prominent Fenians, were examined, but they declined to answer questions criminating themselves or the accused. Not the least proof was elicited against Roberts, and the case was adjourned till to-morrow morning, the prisoners being remanded to Ludlow street jail.

Shipwreck in the Gulf—Body of the Murdered Dr. Hern—Colored Soldier Acquitted of Homicide.

Galveston, Texas, June 9.—The bark Woodlander, of and from Liverpool, was wrecked near North Breakers. Some of the cargo, tackle and apparel was saved in a damaged condition. A steam pump was on board, but the extremely bad weather prevented successful operations. A survey yesterday recommended the condemnation and sale of the vessel and cargo.

Provisional Governor Hamilton left on the 7th for Washington.

The body of Dr. Mosse, murdered near Beverly, has been sent to Ohio.

Examination of the Fenian President—Seguin's Point—Injunction Against Board of Health.

New York, June 11.—The examination of Col. Roberts before the United States Commissioner was commenced to-day. Very little information was elicited from the witnesses, Messrs. Gibbon, Cuff and O'Rourke.

Gen. Hall, Fenian, is dangerously ill from a paralytic shock.

An injunction was granted by Judge Brainard, at the application of Mr. Seguin, owning property on Seguin's point, as a quarantine, restraining the Board of Health from using Seguin Point as a quarantine station. The injunction is for two weeks, when the case will be argued.

The jury verdict sentencing George E. Pratt to the penitentiary for fifteen years, for alleged rape, is thought to be unusually severe. The District Attorney's argument embodied the prevailing feeling of the South versus the North, enlisting the feelings of the jury against the accused.

Shocking Murder in Maryland.

Baltimore, June 11.—A shocking murder was committed last night at Elk Ridge, Baltimore county, eight miles from Baltimore. David White, sixty-five years of age, was attacked in his house by two men and beaten to death. The old man was robbed of his watch and a small sum of money, and his daughter of forty dollars. No arrests have yet been made.

WHAT NOW?

In that section of American population distinguished as the Fenian organization lies the main potency of the Democratic party in the loyal States. Take it away, and that party would be as powerless as Samson was after his locks were shorn.

With this section Mr. Seward has, for many years, had a larger popularity than any other Republican leader. Not that their kindly feeling for him has been suffered to rise above a genial sentiment, and produce substantial fruit at the ballot-box. But this mild partiality for him has increased his authority among his real supporters. There has been among them a vague expectation that profuse expressions of gratitude and admiration would some day solidify into beneficial service. It has happened in this case as in some of the freaks of nature—a profusion of blossoms sometimes yields only a paucity of fruit.

For four years the Fenians cursed Mr. ANDREW JOHNSON with a will. At times their diatribes on him bore marks of a powerful but malignant genius. Latterly their hate of him has softened till it really seemed that something like affection had displaced the old enmity. It was curious to hear a Fenian crowd vociferously cheer an intimation that Mr. JOHNSON had become a Head Center in their organization, and consequently would strain a point of his duty as Chief Magistrate of the Union to do the fraternity a handsome turn.

The President's Proclamation, and vigorous action in accordance therewith, have delighted the Canadians and disgusted the Fenians. Mr. JOHNSON and Mr. SEWARD have lost whatever favor they enjoyed with the Celts. Nor is this susidence of regard to be wondered at. What fate awaited the Fenians had they been permitted to rush unhindered with their arms and munitions across the border, most people will conjecture and decide according to their sympathies. But, so far as facts appear, they are really baffled by the Washington government rather than the British authorities and provincial population. This they feel most deeply. Hence two questions are presented for consideration.

1. Did the Administration give the Fenian leaders assurances that they would at least wink at their enterprise? It would seem, in the absence of positive evidence, quite incredible that sane men should account the scheme practicable unless they held the pledge of the American authorities either not to interfere, or at most, to offer only formal and technical opposition. Whatever confidence the Fenians may have felt in their ability to cope with the Canadians, even with such aid as the Home Government might afford the Colonies, it is not conceivable they felt competent at the same time to wage war against the combined powers of Great Britain and the United States. This view is farther sustained by the reflection that if the Washington administration designed to interfere at all, it ought to have taken its stand months ago. When the Fenians set up a government for the Irish Republic, perfect in all its departments of civil administration, devised and flaunted a national flag, organized an army, paraded it in a distinctive uniform, put portions of it on guard over the deliberations of their Congress, and boldly avowed their ulterior purposes, the studied silence of the President could only be construed into acquiescence.

But, Gen. MURPHY, in the bitterness of disappointment, made the distinct allegation to Gen MEADE that the Washington Cabinet was consulted, and, through Mr. SEWARD, gave consent; that the arms in the possession of the Fenians were mainly bought of the Government, and with a knowledge of the use to which they would be put. This conforms to the statement of Gen. MWERNY and Col. ROBERTS, made at the late Congress in this city. Until the Administration shall satisfactorily respond we must hold that a probable case is made out against it.

2. Has the President used undue rigor in the enforcement of the neutrality law? To apprehend this matter aright it is necessary to bear in mind the fact that this law is not new, and was not devised to meet this particular conjuncture of affairs. It is an old statute, and has been enforced on former occasions, as during the Canadian rebellion, thirty years ago, the Lopez expedition against Cuba, and, a few months since, on the Pacific coast, in preventing the departure from San Francisco of an expedition against Maximilian and his Mexican Empire. In each of these instances the law received the same interpretation, from different political parties. These concurrent interpretations are in conformity to the spirit and letter of the law, which embodies the American idea of neutrality. The real question the administration had to decide was, whether it would yield to the natural instinct of retaliation for wrongs brutally inflicted on us by Great Britain, in our hour of supreme agony, or still maintain the championship of a great principle of international law, the common acceptance of which would work a vast amelioration in the belligerent relations of all the countries of Christendom? Feeling was balanced against duty. The sentiment of right prevailed.

Of course there are many who will say, we had England in our power, and could have paid her off—it is a shame to let so capital an opportunity slip. Such judge from a low stand-point; perhaps the best of which they are capable. But even these ought to consider that the policy they recommend, if followed up, would necessarily involve the Union in a war with Great Britain, and perhaps re-open the insurrection in the Southern States. Revenge may be sweet, but it can be bought at too high a price. The attitude of the Government, however it may conflict with private pledges to the Fenians, conforms to the national traditions, and so far cannot fail to elevate the republic in the judgment of the civilized world.

"We wish the continuance of military rule. It is the disloyal who are ranting about the non-admission of Southern representatives into Congress, not the loyal."

Execution of a British Deserter at Fort Erie.

[From the Detroit Tribune, June 7th.]

Yesterday the execution of a deserter from the 16th regulars, took place at Fort Erie, being the only one of the kind that has occurred since the commencement of hostilities. The soldier referred to, it appears, some time since deserted and crossed over to Buffalo. He was an Irishman, and was prevailed upon to espouse the Fenian cause, if in fact, he had not previously done so. When the invasion took place, he accompanied Col. O'Neill's ill-starred expedition, and was captured on Sunday with about fifteen others in the woods near Fort Erie. He was taken to the guard house, which, unfortunately for him, was guarded by a detachment of his own company. He was immediately recognized, and yesterday was tried by a drum head court martial. He made no attempts to justify his conduct, but on the other hand glorified in what he had done. The "court" found him guilty and sentenced him to be executed at an early hour this morning.

The sentence was carried into effect about six o'clock, a short time before I arrived at the scene, although I made every possible effort to get there. From eye-witnesses I learned the following particulars of the tragedy:

The deserter had little or no time to prepare for his fate, and, in fact, did not ask for any. He remarked that he was a soldier, and would die as such. Stripped of his coat, and encompassed by a strong guard of his own regiment, he was marched to a beautiful grassy mound at the rear of and upon the hill overlooking the village of Fort Erie. He was seated upon a rudely constructed pine box, which was intended to answer the purpose of a coffin, and his executioners were drawn up in line before him, consisting of eight men, who were detailed for that purpose. As many of the 16th as were in the vicinity were stationed a short distance to the rear of the firing party. The poor fellow's eyes were bandaged, and at a given signal there came a crash from the rifles of the executioners, and the lifeless corps of the deserter fell upon the coffin, pierced by five bullets, two of which had passed through his heart. The body was interred in the vicinity of the execution, and the grave remains a monument of warning to the unfortunate man's comrades.

F. P. BLAIR, who fought against rebels during the war, is now fighting and fraternizing with his late enemies. At Kansas City, Mo., on Saturday, he was entertained by a committee of ex-rebels and their sympathizers. Among them was one Captain Pulliam, who drilled and commanded the first company of rebel recruits in the place. When Pulliam was introduced to Blair, he said: "General, you and I differed very materially three years ago, but I am now happy to welcome you back on my platform."

SONG OF GREETING

To the Patrons and Ladies of the Board of the "Home for the Friendless," Sung by the Children at the Anniversary, June 7th, 1866.

BY MRS. LEVI WADE.

We come, a little feeble band,
To greet you with our lay,
To welcome you with heart and hand.
On this, our festal you!
And we would humbly offer you
Our gratitude and love,
A song of praise would render, too,
To Him who reigns above.

From dark abodes of want and woe,
Of sadness and distress,
Where tears of sorrow often flow,
Where all is wretchedness;
You've gathered us and brought us here,
Your tender love to share,
Have taught us the great God to fear,
To seek his love in prayer.

We thank you for the "Home" so fair,
Which you for us provide;
We thank you for your watchful care,
For every want supplied.
And we will strive as we grow up,
To merit your kind care;
That joy, through life, may fill your cup,
Shall be our earnest prayer.

And when in future life we tread
The world's rough paths alone
And seek to earn our daily bread,
The kindness you have shown
Shall be to us a beacon light,
Where'er our feet may stray,
To guide our wandering steps aright,
And lead to virtue's way.

(Additional on First Page.)

Alleged Felonious Shooting—An Old Offender Punished.

Adam Oxenhardt, an individual familiar with the Court and officers of the law, was arraigned in the Quarter Sessions, on Monday, on an indictment for shooting with intent to kill and murder Peter Kaltenborn, in the month of February, 1865. The accused, with some friends, was at the saloon of Kaltenborn, on Pennsylvania avenue, drinking rather freely, and during their bacchanalian revel it was proposed to "toss a copper" for the next "treat." Whilst this performance was going on some words passed between Oxenhardt and an acquaintance, the former asserting, finally, in a boastful manner, that he was the "better man," and at the same time produced evidence of his cowardice in the shape of a pistol. Mr. Kaltenborn, a peaceful German, desirous of preserving order in his house, remonstrated with the contending parties, particularly addressing himself to Oxenhardt, who, in consequence, left the house. Following this remark was the discharge of the pistol in the hands of Oxenhardt, who, in firing, accidentally placed his left hand too near the muzzle, causing the ball in its exit to strike and considerably wound him. The ball lodged in the groin of Kaltenborn, passing downward, and he yet carries it in his leg. Immediately after the shooting, Oxenhardt fled out of the saloon.

When the case was called up, Oxenhardt was brought in from prison, and in reply to an inquiry stated that he had employed counsel, had paid Mr. ——— three hundred dollars, notwithstanding which he (Mr. ———) would do nothing for him. (Sensation in Court.) Judge Sterrett thereupon requested General F. H. Collier to defend the accused. John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., ex-District Attorney, appeared for the prosecution. The facts of the shooting are clearly proven, and not attempted to be denied, and the only question for the consideration of the jury was as to the intent of the defendant. Gen. Collier made an able argument in favor of the defendant, without calling any witnesses, and it was mainly through his effort that the jury acquitted of the felony and convicted of the misdemeanor of wounding the prosecutor.

The verdict being rendered, and the ink not dry that recorded it, the court sentenced Oxenhardt to undergo an imprisonment of two years in the Penitentiary. The record of the accused is exceedingly black, and we trust that during his imprisonment he may reflect upon enormity of his offenses and live to make amend for the same.

The Wheeler and Wilson Sewing Machine.

A good sewing machine is an indispensable article in well regulated households. Sewing by hand is out of vogue—a thing of the past, since the merits of the Wheeler & Wilson machines have become properly understood and appreciated. A husband or father who will permit his wife or daughters to ruin their health and destroy their happiness, from the old system of hand sewing, is a monster unworthy the endearing title. He is no economist. The work performed by these machines is superior to the best executions of the needle, wrought by fair hands, and far more durable. They are simple in their construction, and can be operated with ease by a child. They are known everywhere. Wherever they are known they are popular. They are durable, last a lifetime. They are much better ornaments in the drawing room or parlor than the most expensive piece of furniture, for they combine beauty with utility, elegance with usefulness.

We have had one of them in our family for a number of years, and can speak knowingly of their superior merits. The "Eagle" of the "Wheeler & Wilson" which occupies a place in our household is a sacred sound to us. It is the music of industry. It tells of labor saved, good work performed, and duties, perhaps death, prevented among those whom we most cherish. Everybody should have one of these famous machines. They are cheap and will repay the investment within a few months. E. P. Carpenter, No. 27 Fifth street, is the agent for the manufacturers in this city. In his elegant saleerooms will be found a large stock varying in price, but all quality, for every one sold is warranted. Call in and see for yourself. Lady operators are constantly in attendance to exhibit and explain the superiority of the Wheeler & Wilson, and to exhibit specimens of its workmanship. Mr. Carpenter is an agreeable, courteous and fair dealing gentleman, and in every respect worthy of public patronage.

Case Settled—Legal Points Involved.

Eliza Mehendubrink appeared before Alderman Donaldson on Saturday and made oath charging a young man named Jeffry Douglas with having struck her son, a lad of about nine years, on the head with a stone, inflicting an exceedingly painful wound. The father of Douglas promised the officer who went to arrest his son that he would produce the accused at the boy's office on Monday morning. Yesterday, however, he called on the Alderman and stated that the boy's mother had determined to withdraw the charge, and offered a note given her to settle the case. The legal gentleman acquiesced, but desired to know who paid the costs. The father of the defendant answered that he would, whereupon the necessary papers were made out, and the matter declared settled.

On the Alderman demanding his fees he met with a decided flare up from Douglas of his right to collect costs, and furthermore was informed by the latter that a consultation would be had with higher authority before payment of the costs would be made.

When we left the office an exciting debate on the legality of the question was going on.

The Verdict.

The jury in the case of Boyd Rook, policeman at the Union Depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, prosecuted by Philip Ochse, hackman, for assault and battery, in ejecting him from a place he was, by the rules of the railroad company, prohibited from entering, in pursuance of his calling as a hackman, appeared in the Court of Quarter Sessions on Monday morning, and rendered, through their foreman, J. A. Butler, Esq., Alderman of the Sixth ward, a verdict of "not guilty," directing the costs equally between the defendant and the prosecutor. Thus ends the test case, and hackmen will hereafter bear in mind that they must not violate the rules of the Union Depot, or look out for so doing the police officers there on duty have a right to eject them, as Boyd Rook did Philip Ochse.

Struck With a Mace.

William M'Donald, watchman on the steamer Colonel Bayard, was arrested and lodged in the watch-house on Sunday night, for striking a negro, named Ray, on the head with a mace. M'Donald states that Ray went aboard of the steamer mentioned about nine o'clock on Sunday night, as he supposed for the purpose of stealing something, when he (M'Donald) ordered him to go ashore. This Ray declined doing, whereupon the former lifted a heavy mace and struck the negro a severe blow in the back of the head, inflicting a wound from which the blood flowed freely.

A hearing was had in the case yesterday, when M'Donald was discharged, his Honor deeming the blow to have been struck by the accused while in the discharge of his duty.

The McKeesport Homicide.

Our account of the shooting of Jas. S. Gallentine by George W. Lesser, at M'Keesport, on Sunday morning last, was substantially correct. An inquest was held on the body of the deceased on Monday, a verdict being rendered by the Coroner's jury that death resulted in the manner stated and at the hands of the party named.

General F. H. Collier, formerly District Attorney of the county, has been retained as counsel for Mr. Lesser, and has made an application for his release on bail. The matter will come up for argument this forenoon at eleven o'clock.

Assault and Battery.—George Andrews and William Cotton were arrested yesterday and brought before Esquire Lipp, of Birmingham, charged, on oath of Ernest Ackerman with assault and battery. The prosecutor who is a saloon keeper on Carson street, alleges that the parties named came into his saloon and provoked a quarrel with his wife, and on his interfering they turned on him and beat him over the head with the rung of a chair. The accused were held to bail in $200 to answer at Court.

Held to Keep the Peace.—William Tinling appeared before Alderman Thompson yesterday, and made oath against Andrew Hoehl, for surety of the peace. Andrew, according to the statement of Tinling, has been annoying divers threats of interference with the life and personal security of the latter. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Fell on Him.—A man named Andrew Digman was injured, yesterday, by a bank of clay falling on him while at work in Anowlesom's brick-yard. His injuries are not of a serious nature.

Fence-stealing.—William Brigmeyer and Louis Wising, were fined five dollars by Mayor Wilson, yesterday, for forestalling the market. Served them right.

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON CITY.

Witnesses Against Jeff. Davis—Perjury and Fraud—Greeley on Davis—Habeas Corpus—Compensation of Members of Congress—The Tax Bill—The Constitutional Amendment—Removal from North Carolina Precedents.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The morning papers have the following specials from Washington: A New Yorker of the name of Campbell has just given to the world some queer revelations concerning the testimony lately deduced by the Judiciary Committee of the House tending to implicate Jeff. Davis in the assassination plot. He shows that a gross system of frauds and perjury has been resorted to to prove Davis and other conspirators in the matter, and backs up his assertion by facts that startled all who are familiar with the testimony.

It seems that many of the witnesses testified under assumed names, and that no such persons as the ostensible and recorded witnesses exist. In addition to this he states that when Mr. Conover, who was the principal witness and detective in the case, was asked to proceed to New York and procure some corroborative evidence of his own statements which he had previously volunteered to furnish, that he gave the officer who was sent with him the slip in New York and has actually run away, as is supposed, to avoid a prosecution for perjury, and has not been heard from by the officer or committee for several weeks. Other witnesses have come forward and confessed to having sworn falsely.

It being understood that Mr. Greeley, who is in Washington, was in favor of the release of Jeff. Davis, he was asked if the report was true, when he retorted by asking the interrogator if he was "in favor of the indefinite imprisonment of the representatives of five millions of people without conviction or trial?"

Mr. Greeley was in consultation with Senators Chandler, Wilson, and others, on the subject of Davis' liberation on bail, and favored it to the extent of alarming Chandler and some of his party associates. He left for New York yesterday evening.

A proposition will soon be introduced in Congress equalizing the compensation of members. Under the present rates some members receive $15,000 pay and mileage, each Congress, while others only receive a few hundred over $6,000. It will be proposed to pay every member $10,000 a Congress, and his actual traveling expenses.

Mr. White, of the House Committee on Ways and Means, may not be willing to increase the duties on the amount proposed by Mr. Stephen Colwell. They are engaged in giving all possible protection to our manufacturing and mining interests. The Senate will take up the tax bill, and finish that before entering upon the consideration of the enactments contemplated and made requisite by the Constitutional Amendment.

The House will take up the Constitutional Amendment on Wednesday, and concur in the Senate amendment by at least a three-fourth vote. The presiding officers will then transmit it to the Secretary of State, whose duty it will be to at once transmit to the Governors of States, to be laid before their respective Legislatures.

The Senate Committee have agreed upon two cents per pound on cotton.

The President is known to have expressed the wish that Congress would pass as concurrent resolves the supplementary bills declaring the powers of Congress under the Constitutional Amendment.

A memorial signed by one hundred freedmen, of Charlottsville, has been presented to Gen. Howard by a committee of the signers. It asks for continued military protection, and recites that they are deprived of reasonable safe-guards against bodily injuries by their former masters, and that General Steedman and Fullerton, during their sojourn in Charlottsville, consulted forty white ex-rebels and not one colored loyalist.

FENIAN MATTERS.

Fenians Routed Near St. Armand—Several Killed and Sixteen Captured—Fenians Followed Across the Line—Transportation Home Refused—Movements Not Always.

NEW YORK, June 11.—A St. Albans' dispatch say that on Saturday, about eight miles from St. Armand, a brigade of British regulars charged upon the small portion of Spear's army that had remained behind, and captured sixteen prisoners. Some of the Fenians were killed, but how many is not known. This fight took place, at most, on the boundary, across which the Fenians were compelled to retreat. The English, however, had no idea of stopping on account of boundary lines, and they charged forward across the line, firing upon the retreating band of Fenians. They also made some captures upon American soil. This affair has been reported to General Meade, who is at present investigating it.

BUFFALO, June 11.—General Barry has received an answer to his dispatch to General Meade regarding the transportation of the Fenians now congregated here to a large number. General Meade says the United States does not feel called upon to stand the expense of sending these men home, and does not, therefore, give the required permission to furnish transportation.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Herald's special from Montreal states: "In the final fight near the line only forty of the Governor General's body guard, Governor Gough's Fenians were driven across the line with several killed and sixteen captured, who were taken to Montreal."

A special from Ottowa, dated June 11th, says that three schooners, suspiciously crowded with men, passed down St. Clair river to-day. The gunboat Rescue went in pursuit.

The Canadian Government has applied to England for eight thousand additional troops, including a regiment of cavalry and a proper proportion of artillery.

Threats were made at Ottowa, and warrants are out for all of the Fenians there, numbering sixty-eight, all of whom are known as Fenians. The impression is that before the 10th, insist that the Fenians are still determined to push on the work, and says the war material is still being sent to the frontier—two wagon loads of which have been captured by the United States troops. It also says that fifteen cases of Springfield rifles and three thousand rounds of ammunition passed through Ogdensburg within the last forty-eight hours.

From California.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., June 7.—The Western Union Telegraph Company's bark Palmetto sailed for Petropoutouski to-day.

Fifteen thousand pounds of shipping grade wool was sold during the past week at prices ranging from 17 to 31 cents per pound.

A Portland, Oregon, dispatch states that the Union majority in Oregon is eight hundred and nine, with four counties to hear from. The State Senate stands 14 Union to 8 Democrats. Both parties claim a majority in the Lower House. The total vote is twenty-two thousand two hundred and twenty.

Dispose of all the Tickets and give the Public all the Prizes, than to hold a quantity of tickets (as proprietors usually do) and thereby enhance our chances of drawing the large prizes.

The drawn numbers will be published in the Chicago daily papers as soon as drawn, and when the drawing is over each agent will be furnished with a complete list of the drawn numbers.

In view of the above reasons, which we hope will prove eminently satisfactory,

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY, June 11, 1866.

Gold continues quiet and without decided change, though the tendency seems to be downward. The New York quotations to-day as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 138½; 1881's, 109¾; 5-20 (old) 109¾; new, 109¾; 10-40's, 95½; 7-30's, 102¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, 83; Fort Wayne, 84; Erie, 63.

Bank and Insurance stocks continue dull, and we hear of but comparatively few transactions. Ever since gold bearing bonds stood at about the same premium they do now, and gold at 125, Bank and solid oil stocks were in brisk demand; being, seemingly, the most profitable investments that could be found. But when government gold bearing bonds, with 5 per cent interest included, sell at 102¾, and gold at 140, these bonds are preferable to anything offering just now.

The market for 7-30's is dull with more sellers than buyers. Small holders seem particularly anxious to realize, and small bonds will not bring by a half per cent as much in New York as the larger bonds. Mining stocks continue dull, we might say everywhere—in New York as well as Pittsburgh. We often hear the question asked, what is the real value of Columbia oil stock? but this, like many other questions is more easily asked than answered. If the company is receiving, as it is asserted, four hundred barrels of oil per day, free from tax, and with a dividend in view of at least ten per cent in July, it is certainly selling below its intrinsic value.

Gold having sold down to 138 in New York, has brought quite a number of buyers, partly from real necessity, and partly from a desire to speculate. The demand for export is comparatively light, but a few heavy purchases would run the premium up from 4 to 5 per cent, as the loan market is reported easy in that city, with more money flowing in from the United States Treasury, in discharge of the June interest on the 7-30 bonds.

We see the amount of gold interest to be paid out in July on 1881 bonds, estimated at 19 millions, which is a mistake. The exact amount is only $8,612,363, the principal being $283,745,500.

—The Boston Bulletin, like the New York Tribune, and some other prominent journals, is becoming dissatisfied with the Secretary of the Treasury, and the way in which he is managing the finances of the country. The Bulletin says:

Secretary McCulloch was a quiet and respectable Western bank president a few years since; now, with the strings of our Treasury gold bags in his hands, he watches sagaciously the state of affairs of the whole civilized world, and disburses or retains our precious coin as he may in his wisdom see fit. We suggest at once a cabinet and veto power for the regulation of this bold official. At present, one H. H. Van Dyck, Assistant Treasurer of New York, has the Secretary's veto power. In May, Mr. Van Dyck, acting under very general instructions, sold through Mr. P. H Myers, a member of the New York gold board, thirty-five millions of gold at 1 30-100 to 1 32-100. He could reach him from the Secretary to stop. He did stop, however, and report has it that his stock was running low, and that an all-conquering combination stood before him with cash to take the entire balance in the Treasury.

Mr. Myers (is he anybody's brother-in-law?) received for his "labor" full commission amounting to the snug sum of $45,000. Mr. Van Dyck, in his worthy letter to his chief, in explanation of this singular proceeding, speaks of the "cupidity of those whose sole vocation consists in betting with each other upon the ups and downs of the market."

Most of these greedy "gold gamblers" would be satisfied with that on the 35 millions which Mr. Van Dyck paid to their brother of the gold board.

—The Venango National Bank of Pennsylvania, which recently suspended payment, held at the time of its failure Government deposits to the amount of $225,000, for which the Treasury Department held securities to the sum of only fifty thousand dollars. It is now stated that a draft, drawn upon the bank to fifty thousand dollars a few days ago and paid by the United States Treasurer, went to protest and has never been paid. Things are certainly getting into a strange condition at our financial headquarters, and the public is certainly justified in becoming anxious about the national treasury and the national banking system.

—There seems to be all sorts of schemes suggested to enable the banks to keep the largest possible amount of paper money in circulation. The Journal of Commerce has the following item about the withdrawal of the old local bank paper of the country after the first of July:

"We have heard of a very clever dodge by which the State bank issues will be kept going after the 1st of July. Any bank which pays out such bills after that date must pay a tax on the same of 10 per cent. But an agent proposes to receive them of all the banks for redemption, he will pay them out again without subjecting himself to any tax, and thus they may keep on their rounds until they are worn out, without being once subjected to the tax. If any one can suggest a plan to improve upon this, it ought to be tried.

If such a dodge be really contemplated, it would be well for the people to forestall it by refusing all local bank notes after the 1st of July, even in advance, where the notes have no regular par redemption at some of the commercial centres. No sound local bank can safely pay the Federal tax of one per cent a year on its circulation; and put it out in a fair and legitimate way, and any other sort of bank deserves to have its notes refused upon sight, on suspicion. The purpose of the tax, as well as the purpose of the National Banking system, is to complete the work of uniformity and unquestioned security in the paper currency of the whole country. The banks of this city have put themselves in position to meet this and all other similar dodges, by having through their Board of Presidents, unanimously agreed that from and after the 15th instant, "the notes of State Banks will not be received on deposit or in payment of debts by those Banks of this city, unless the same be re-deemed by a bank, member of the Philadelphia Clearing-house Association." One of two things will now be necessary: the State Banks must prepare themselves to call in this circulation, or establish a par redemption with some Clearing-house Bank, otherwise their notes will not circulate. —Phila. Ledger.

New York Money and Stock Market.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Post's money article says: Money is abundant at 5@6 ₱ cent; commercial paper scarce and in active demand at 6@7. The stock market is dull, but Government securities are firm. Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 96; Chicago & Rock Island, 102½; Western Union Telegraph, 89; Erie, 64; New York Central, 97½; Hudson, 118; Reading, 109¾; Catawissa, 77½; Michigan Southern, 79½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 83½; Illinois Central, 129½; Toledo, 105½; Rock Island, 92½; North Western, 30½; do. preferred, 60¼. Gold closed at 138¾.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, June 9.—The transactions of the past week have embraced a large quantity of pulled wool, which is wanted for seasonable consumption, and to carry over manufacturers to the fall crop of this description. Choice supers and extras are anxiously inquired for, and holders of these goods, low and the close, are making a material advance, and are inclined to withdraw their stocks. The low grades of pulled are in better supply, and offering at relatively low rates. Fine choice lots of fleece are scarce, and also very firmly held. The supply is in few hands, and cannot be moved except at figures hitherto unexcepted in buyers.

Sales of domestic for the week foot up some 750,000 lbs, at a range of 45@72c for fleece, and 35@70c for the various grades of pulled.

Boston Fish Market.

BOSTON, June 9.—Old mackeral are nearly out of the market. The stocks have passed into the hands of the trade, and consist solely of Bay No. 1. The new fish are coming in each day in increasing quantities, and sells readily at prices which afford a good margin to fishermen. We note sales of small lots of No. 1 at $18.50@19 per bbl. New No. 2s are coming forward from the shore, with sales reported at $14@14.50 per bbl.

Alewives are quiet at $7@8 per bbl. Pickled herring are dull at $4.50@5.50 per bbl for common and Labrador. Smoked herring are selling at 20c@25c per box for No. 1 and sealed. Salmon are nominal at $30 per fierce.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

The produce markets continue quiet and comparatively dull, though there is still a fair volume of business, but it is principally of a local and unimportant character.

GRAIN—Wheat is firm and but little in market; good to prime Springs may be quoted at $1.30@1.35. Oats quiet and unchanged; sales in elevator at 56@58, and from store at 58@60—in a retail way at 65. Corn is a little dull and weak; small sales from store at 80@90—sales of 1 car Shelled, on track, at 81. Rye is quoted at 95 to $1, and Spring Barley at 90 to to $1, according to quality.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is very firm and somewhat excited. There is considerable inquiry for Shoulders and Sugar Cured Hams, and we now quote at 15 for the former, and 25@26¼ for the latter. Sides dull but firm at 17¾ for Ribbed. A round lot of Shoulders could not be purchased under 15½@16. Lard is selling at 20 for steamed, and 23 for kettle. Mess Pork dull, though held firmly at $22.50@23.

FLOUR—Is steady, with a fair local demand but unchanged. Regular sales from store at $10.50 to $11.00 for Spring Wheat; $11@11.50 for half Spring and half Winter; and $12@13 for all Winter. Rye Flour is quoted at $9.75.

POTATOES—A shade firmer in consequence of a material falling off in the receipts, but prices are not quotably higher. Sales from store in a regular way at $1.15@1.20 per bush, and $3.25@3.50 per bbl, according to quality.

HIDES—Dull, the demand being somewhat in excess of the supply, but prices remain unchanged at 2½@3.

BUTTER—Continues very dull and the demand is restricted very much. Good to strictly prime Roll may be fairly quoted at 20 to 22.

CHEESE—New Western Reserve is selling at 16@17; Hamburg 17@18; and prime Ohio Factory at 21@22.

OIL—No 1 Lard Oil is steady with sales reported at from $1.81 to $1.85.

HAY—Is firm with a very fair demand and light arrivals; sales from scales at $25 to $30 for good to strictly prime Timothy.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches in good demand and very scarce; sales of quarters at 19@20, and halves at 23 to 24. Apples unchanged—sales of old at $1.

SORGHUM—Is quiet but unchanged at 40 to 45 for common, and 55 to 60 for prime.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } MONDAY, June 11, 1866. }

CRUDE—The market for Crude continues dull and weak, and with a good stage of water and a resumption of navigation, together with the prospect of heavy receipts, buyers seem disposed to hold off for lower rates, while holders are making slight concessions in order to effect sales. We now quote at 13@14, in bulk, though as will be seen by note of reference to the sales, a great proportion of the transactions were at 13½, and some of our refiners are refusing to pay above 13. Sale of 1500 bbls, to arrive, at 14.00, on the spot, at 14; 80 at 13½; 60 at 13¾; and 100 at 14¼, bbls returned. The advices by the last steamer are reported unfavorable, and as a consequence, the eastern markets are very dull and depressed with a drooping tendency.

REFINED—There was little or no inquiry for bonded oil to-day, and the market continues dull and weak, and concessions would have to be made in order to effect sales. For immediate delivery in Philadelphia, 40c seems to be the highest figure that can be obtained, at 44, we believe, could be realized for July, but nothing above it. It is said that exporters are offering contracts for July, in Philadelphia, and that they are to pay, 44 to 44¼, at 42c. On Saturday, there was a sale of 300 bbls, for August, at 44½, but this figure could not now be realized. Free oil is quiet and unchanged.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil by the Allegheny River since our last report were as follows:

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to rise steadily at this point with six feet six inches in the channel by the pier marks last evening. A telegram from Oil City about noon yesterday, reported the Allegheny rising again with fifty-three inches in the channel. As yet, the Monongahela has not risen much, a rise is expected out of that stream. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, and all that could possibly be desired for the transaction of out door business.

There has not been a single arrival or departure aside from the regular packets, since our last report. The Bayard left for Parkersburg on time, with a fair trip, and the Lexington from the same point, as well as the Fayette and Chieftan, from Brownsville, are due here this morning. The Leonora, from Cincinnati, and the Citizen, from St. Louis, may be expected to arrive here to-morrow or to-morrow night.

Capt. J. H. Lightner, late of the Lorena, has assumed command of the Kate Putnam, in place of Capt. W. S. Evans, who has resigned. The Putnam is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The Lorena, in command of Capt. Sam Shuman, has her cargo about completed, and will be ready to leave for St. Louis this evening. The Nora, Capt. H. H. Devinney, is filling up rapidly for Cincinnati and Louisville, and will be the first boat out for these points.

The Great Western Roberts left for Louisville yesterday forenoon with seven barges, containing about 57,000 bushels of coal. She was followed by the Fearless, Venture, Diamond Grave, and the Coal Valley Pearl. Stella were making preparations to leave last evening. The run of coal up to last night may be fairly set down as follows:

Destination.	Name of Boats.	No. Bush.
Cincinnati,	Fearless.....	48 000
Cincinnati,	Venture.....	45 000
Cincinnati,	Coal Valley.....	45 000
Louisville,	Sam Roberts.....	56 000
Louisville,	Stella.....	60 000
Louisville,	John S. Cosgrave.....	50 000
Louisville,	Jacob Reed.....	40 000

In addition to the above there are quite a number of other boats that will leave to-day, parcelling there out through them to get through. The Roberts, we learn, rubbed pretty hard on Glass House, but since she passed down the river has risen considerably.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Sunday, says:

The Glasgow passed down from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, with a full cargo and fair trip of people. The Ohio State also arrived from Pittsburgh with a fair trip. She reshipped her St. Louis freight on the Glasgow, and returns to Pittsburgh on Tuesday evening.

Messrs. Dean & Hale and Captain Wm. Walker, yesterday, purchased the side-wheel steamer Bostona No. 2, from David Gibson & Co. They intend to build a fine passenger steamer similar to the Minneola for her machinery, for the "Dean Line," in the Cincinnati and Memphis trade.

A portion of the Glasgow's cargo consists of 3000 boxes of glassware. She reships thirty tons for New Orleans, at Louisville, on the Louisville. Capt. James Wilson was noticing yesterday with the Gay Rebecca. The Glasgow, while making a landing at the levee, about one o'clock yesterday morning, came in against the Maggie Hays hard enough to stove in a part of her nosering and knock overboard a few boxes of glass stowed on her upper guards. A storm suddenly came up just at that time, the dark clouds blinding the pilot. The Maggie Hays was not injured.
